CONGRESS CONVENES MONDAY
IN SPECIAL SESSION.

THE MESSAGE

Its Contents are Awaited With Interest.—There is Much Speculation as to What Subjects Will Be Treated.—An Important Session is Expected.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—The ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty is all that is included in the present program of the extraordinary session of Congress, which will open Monday. It was originally desired by the administration to take up financial legislation at the special session, but the idea has now been abandoned and unless all signs fail comparatively little attempt will be made to accomplish anything of importance other than the ratification of the Cuban treaty.

The reciprocity treaty has been ratified by the Cuban congress, and only lacks necessary legislation by the United States Congress to become effective. The initiative for this rests with the house of representatives. The fact that several weeks are required for the organization of that body has excited apprehension in some quarters that there will be considerable delay in getting the reciprocity joint resolution in shape, and that action may be prevented at the called session. In circles better informed, however, there exists no apprehension on this account, for while the Speaker is not likely to have all the committees ready for announcement before December, he undoubtedly will announce the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Accounts and Mileage some time during the coming week.

While there is likely to be a vigorous demand from the Democrats for liberal debate, it is expected a limit will be fixed when the resolution is reported, and that a time also will be fixed for a final vote. With regard to the question directly involved, it is not believed there will be any great differences in the House, but the Democrats may attempt to make capital for the next presidential election by debating the tariff and offering amendments that will not be sustained by the presiding officer. However, there is reason for the belief that the House will be able to send the resolution to the Senate before November 20. The latter body, having ratified the reciprocity treaty by an almost unanimous vote, may be expected to take up and dispose of the matter without much debate.

Talks with leading Republican senators point to a general understanding that no financial legislation will be attempted at the extra session. During the time the House is considering the reciprocity matter the Senate will have plenty of business to occupy its attention. The executive business alone is of vast volume, for the appointments made during the recess number thousands.

These will have to be reported to the Senate for its advice and consent and their consideration will keep the senators busy the first ten days of the session. The financial bill will be considered by members of the Finance Committee, and cloak room conferences may be expected among leading senators on both sides but no bill will be formulated until after the Christmas holidays.

Monday will be devoted to the reading of the President's message. The general expectation is that the message will be brief and will deal only with Cuban reciprocity, and possibly with financial legislation. In his message it is expected that the President will direct the attention of Congress to the moral obligations affecting Cuba and point out the duty of the House to endorse the action of the Senate in passing a Cuban reciprocity treaty.

If the subject of financial legislation is touched upon it is believed that definite recommendations will be made by the President along the lines of the speech delivered in Chicago some time ago by Secretary Shaw. The differences of opinion entertained by the administration and by leading Republican members of Congress on the question of financial legislation renders it hopeless to expect that anything along this line can be accomplished in the short time which the extra session has before it and in view of these facts it is altogether probable that the matter will be left out of the President's message entirely, though he had previously determined to give it especial prominence.

Eighteen People are Injured, but None Seriously.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 7.—The west bound passenger train on the Clover Leaf route was wrecked just east of this place today. The rails spread and three coaches were overturned. ## THERE WAS NO CONVICTION.

The Missouri Boodler Farris Escapes a Court Sentence.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 7.—The jury before which State Senator Farris was tried on the charge of bribery in connection with the alum legislation came into court this morning and reported that they had failed to agree on a verdict. The judge thereupon discharged the jury from further service.

The jury was out exactly sixteen and one-half hours, and the foreman reported that the jury stood eight for conviction to four for acquittal. Farris is the first of the indicted members of the legislature to be tried for bribery. He was tried on the direct charge of receiving seventy thousand dollars from the baking powder trust, and distributing it among the seven members of the committee of criminal jurisprudence. The money was paid to hold up the bill which was introduced to amend the law prohibiting the use of alum in baking powder. This money came from Daniel J. Kelly, the New York representative of the baking powder trust.

Cape Hatien, Nov. 7.—The United States cruiser Baltimore has arrived at Jerto Plat on the north coast of the republic Santo Domingo. Italian and German war ships are also expected at the San Domingo capital city. The situation in San Domingo remains unchanged.

PANAMA MUCH AROUSED

Columbia is Putting Troops Into the Field.—There May Be Trouble Yet. The People of Panama are Frantic with Delight at Their Recognition by Uncle Sam.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The Patrie this afternoon publishes in its dispatches from Antwerp, Belgium, an interview with Gonzales Torres, consul general of Columbia, in which he says that he has just received a dispatch from Columbia announcing that seven thousand troops are just about to arrive at Savanilla on the way to Colon.

Consul General Torres adds that the action of the American naval forces at Colon in preventing Columbia from sending troops to Panama to suppress the uprising, thereby prevented Columbia from fulfilling her treaty obligation to maintain order. He says that in spite of American interference Columbia will fulfill her treaty obligations and will in spite of the United States march her troops into Panama.

The Patrie sets forth that the government of Columbia has decided "not to permit the United States to take part of her territory under the pretext of creating a new republic."

No outsiders have been allowed to see Mrs. Nation in her rehearsals, but the active press agent is authority for the statement that worse players have been seen on the stage. The piece is to be staged with effective realism and the climax will be reached when the crusader from Kansas does her smashing act with a real hatchet and real glass.

COLORADO NATIONAL GUARD RECEIVES ORDERS.

BIG STRIKE PROBABLE

All is in Readiness to Protect Property and Preserve Life if the Worst Comes to the Worst.—Many of the Foreign Miners Leaving for Europe

Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—Orders have been issued by Adjutant General Bell to every organization of the Colorado National Guard not now at Cripple Creek to be in readiness to take the field. It has been planned to open the mines at Telluride Monday under military protection, but in view of the impending strike of the coal miners the Telluride managers have decided to defer action. It is presumed that the troops are to be held in readiness to protect the coal camps next Monday when the miners all over the state are expected to go on a strike. Adjutant Gen. Bell has announced his intention of recruiting the National Guard up to three thousand. The news from Trinidad is to the effect that an exodus of coal miners from there and other coal fields has set in. Many of the Italians and Austrians are arranging to leave for Europe.

All the unions of the northern field will take a referendum vote on the adoption or rejection of the schedule submitted by the operators' conference just closed. In the schedule the operators have granted a raise to be equivalent of one to ten per cent. The operators have refused to grant the eight hours until such time as the remainder of the state is on the eight hour basis.

They Go Over the Proposed Action of the Coming Congress.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—A conference to review the work to be done by the extra session of congress and to discuss matters of legislation at the regular session was held here at the White House today between President Roosevelt and Senators Allison of Iowa, Aldrich of Rhode Island, Cullom of Illinois, Platt of Connecticut, Hale of Maine and Spooner of Wisconsin.

It was stated by the senators on leaving the White House that the exact form of the legislation in regard to Cuban reciprocity was not decided upon. In view of the prompt action of the administration on recognizing the new republic of Panama it was stated that no legislation on that subject would be absolutely necessary although it might be desirable to give the President authorization to conduct canal negotiations with the new republic.

The question of financial legislation was discussed but no conclusion looking to a change of the general understanding that on general financial legislation at the called session was reached.

SETS ASIDE THE VERDICT.

Governor Peabody Restores Chase to His Former Position.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—Governor Peabody today set aside the verdict of the court martial which found Brigadier General John Chase guilty of disobedience of orders and sentenced him to dishonorable dismissal from service.

The governor decided that the findings of the court martial were correct, but in view of the General's previous good record he restored him to duty as commander of the National Guard of Colorado.

The charge of disobedience to orders was filed against General Chase by Adjutant General Bell, who issued the executive order at Cripple Creek which was disregarded by the Commander.

General Chase attempted to justify his action on the ground that many manufactured orders had been issued and he was in grave doubt whether the order in question came from the governor or not.
